

Current and Future Activities on Space Weather Education and Outreach Activities in Europe

F. Jansen

University of Greifswald, Institute for Physics, Project WeltraumWetterwarte (WWW – Space Weather Observatory), Domstr. 10a , 17489 Greifswald, Germany

The awareness on space weather within the European Science and Technology Week 2002 will be sketched. Moreover the produced space weather products (CD-ROM, talk show, poster, planetarium show and spark chamber) are described. Experiences will be explained and conclusions for future space weather education and outreach activities in Europe - foreseen for 2004/2005 - will be given.